

Meeting Friday on Controversial Township Sewer Project

By Rod Denley

The Grayling Township Board has called a special meeting for Friday night to discuss the controversial township sewer project which looks like it may go down the drain.

The special meeting to be held at the Crawford AuSable High School is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. During a public meeting held last week, Township Supervisor Bernard Fowler told the audience of over 300 people who attended that if they came out to the next township meeting, and were as adamantly opposed to the project as they were at the public meeting, then it would probably not be approved. He said he thought the board could approve it, but said such a move on their part would not be too smart.

At the same meeting several citizens raised many questions about the study done for the sewer proposal and demanded some answers on what is happening with the city sewer system.

During an interview Monday, Fowler said the Friday night meeting will produce some decision on where the board will go next with the whole sewer proposal. He said the questions raised at the public hearing would not be answered at that meeting, since copies of the questions were not in his hands at that time. He did say they would be answered.

City Manager Jerry Morford said the same day that although no decision has been made by council on what the next action will be, he expects the city will go ahead with the study of the city sewer system. In the city section of the synopsis for the public meeting, it was stated that, "Proposed television inspection and grouting of collection sewers is proposed to eliminate up to 90% of all extraneous surface and ground water presently entering the system by means of inflow and infiltration. Overflows to the AuSable River must also be eliminated. The capacity of the City's master pumping station and wastewater treatment system needs to be increased, and additional expansion of the treatment facilities is required to achieve a higher degree of treatment."

Morford says in his opinion the city will probably go ahead with upgrading, renovation and repairs of the present system. He said elimination of the storm water in the system would bring the system back to necessary levels, but he said, the problem is that the system has to be sufficient to handle growth up to the year 2000.

During the public meeting several questions were raised by local citizens and three men who work in disciplines related to the sewer study raised many questions about the validity of the reports for both the Township and City sewer proposals.

Robert Larson, a graduate civil engineer and hydrologist, read from a 30-page report he wrote which raised questions about the validity of the data of the engineering study, the sources of pollution in Lake Margrethe, and challenged the Township to clearly define what the health problems and effects of pollution on the lake.

Both he and Ralph King, who also presented a report, maintain that much of the pollution in the lake is due to the presence of nutrient materials. Both men indicated that most of this phosphorus and nitrogen was coming from natural sources (rainfall, leaves, seeds), surface runoff and detergents from septic systems. King said, "... it is very probable a bill will soon be enacted to ban or restrict phosphates in detergents. This would minimize this potential source of pollution."

In his report, Larson states that Camp Grayling has a sewage system similar to the septic fields of other property owners and could be contributing as much pollution on a year-round basis as the rest of the lake does in the summer. The people at the public meeting were told by Fowler that the State Military Board had decided that if the sewer system was built, the camp would not have to hook up to it.

King charged that the township is also contributing to the lake problems and said, "If the township is genuinely concerned with the water quality of Lake Margrethe, why have they and the County Road Commission encouraged both point and non-point sources of water discharge into the lake on the east side, by running storm sewers directly into the lake and black-topping streets leading downhill to the lake with troughs in the middle to discharge directly into the lake."

Larson in his report demanded to know how the city could even consider abandoning its sewer system which was built only a few years ago. Larson and Bill Buc (who also asked many questions about the sewer plans), in their reports say the present sewer system was designed and built according to a 1969 study made by the same company doing the reports for the present city study for expansion. Buc questioned what effect the move of Bear Archery could have on population expansion figures of the study. Larson questions why the sewer system, which was designed for the year 2000 and finished in 1971, has to be rebuilt or expanded. He and Buc maintain that there are only small differences in what the old plant was designed to handle and what the proposed larger plant could handle. Buc asked, "My question is why, according to your latest report, is the design flow only .42mgd (million gallons daily), supposed to last to the year 2000 when in 1969 the plant was designed for .414mgd but is now supposed to be incapable of handling the load? Aren't the old and new design flows virtually the same, but yet you say that the present system can no longer handle the load it is receiving?"

Dial-A-Ride Bus Beats Stork

Bill Worden is a driver for the Crawford County Dial-A-Ride and he wound up being an ambulance driver last week. Chet Johnston the manager of the outfit, was almost a mid-wife ... mid-man ... mid-person, anyway.

It was Kevin Michael Perry, the son of William and Louise Perry, of Ausagra Acres who began this exciting adventure and turned the Dial-A-Ride into dial-an-ambulance. He is one of the latest arrivals to the census list of Grayling and almost arrived on the bus.

"I had been having a long hard pregnancy and thought it would be a slow birth when I had the baby," said his mother as she showed off her new son. But then for some reason Kevin Michael decided it was time to be born and the family did not have a phone to call for help. Kevin's sister ran to the Dial-A-Ride office, two blocks away, where Johnston was locked out of his office.

Informed that a bus was needed to take

"Mommy to the hospital to have a baby", Johnston looked in despair at his empty parking lot. Fortunately at that time "bachelor" Bill Worden pulled up in his bus.

The three of them got in the bus and arrived at the Perry home just as a police car arrived there to meet them. Mrs. Perry was bundled aboard the bus and away they went.

Worden says he was happy he was just the bus driver and was worried he might have to help deliver the baby. "I was glad Chet was there to be the mid-wife. I never delivered a baby and I hope I never have to," said Worden later.

The bus arrived at the hospital and Kevin Michael would not even wait for a doctor to arrive. Six minutes after the party arrived at the hospital, he arrived. Kevin is now home with his brothers and sisters, Chet Johnston is back to work at the office, and Bill Worden is driving his bus and smoking a free cigar.

6 Booths Left For Trade Show

There is only space for 6 booths left for the Grayling Kiwanis Club sponsored "Trade Show '77" to be held on April 28-29-30, according to Chuck Fick, general chairman.

The show will be held at the Crawford County Road Commission garage located on M-72 East.

Persons interested in having a booth are to contact either David Jansen or Fraser Dean.

Counties Assn. To Meet Here Thursday, March 24

Exploration of the governor's transportation bill and land use legislation will feature the joint-session of the Michigan Association of Counties and Northern Michigan Counties Association on Thursday, March 24 in Grayling.

Discussing land use and his proposed constitutional amendment on the "Right to Private Property" will be State Senator Joseph Mack of the Upper Peninsula.

Senator Mack has been one of the most vocal opponents to projected land use legislation and has added a positive thrust to his position with the proposed introduction of the "Right to Property" amendment to the state constitution.

The amendment would rest "land use" regulation in local government hands.

Delegates will hear of issues affecting Michigan Sheriffs - particularly the donny brook developing in Detroit over control of Detroit freeway patrol from Jack Foster, executive director of Michigan Sheriff's Association.

Reports on the "State of the Counties" will be offered by A. Barry McGuire, executive director of Michigan Association of Counties and James Callahan, MAC legislative director.

The session will be held at the Crawford County Courthouse.

Accident Location System Set Up in Grayling

By Rod Denley

A new computerized Michigan Accident Location System (MALI) is being set up in Grayling and Crawford County and City Police Chief Pete Stephan will head the coordinating council for it.

He met with Crawford County Under-Sheriff, Joe White, and about a dozen other area police and county officials on Friday, to discuss the new system. The discussion and instruction was led by Sgt. Joseph F. Bouchard, of the Michigan Department of State Police, Safety and Instruction Division.

Sgt. Bouchard in his lecture explained the new system will keep track of every accident investigated by the police. In years past, police poked colored pins onto the map and kept their statistics on record.

Under the new system the computer takes the place of the pin. Not only can it feed out printouts on accident locations but the MALI system can write a book about each accident on the head of each pin. Besides the location, it can give details on the type of weather, the condition of pavement, date, the police action taken, direction of travel of drivers involved, the number of vehicles involved and an engineers log of analyzed streets. All of this information

AuSable Council Hears Gebhardt on Wild Rivers

by Willard Bosserman, Co. Ext. Dir.

Carl Gebhardt, U. S. Forest Service, Cadillac office, explained the National Wild and Scenic Rivers program to the AuSable River Watershed Study Council Tuesday, March 15, at their regular meeting.

"The purpose of the act," he explained, "is to preserve and protect certain rivers in the country, to keep them free-flowing and high water quality."

There were 56 rivers in the country nominated for study. The AuSable and Manistee were the only two Michigan rivers so named.

The Pere Marquette has been studied under the original selection. It has been recommended to be included in the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act but has not been so designated by Congress yet.

The U. S. Forest Service takes the lead in the study but includes the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Soil Conservation Service, Fish and Wildlife, Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Great Lakes Basin Commission.

Four basic criteria for inclusion are: 1. The river must be free-flowing, 2. High Water Quality, 3. At least 25 miles in length, and 4. Have outstanding national values.

The three classifications are as follows:

Wild — Those rivers or sections of rivers that are free of impoundments and generally inaccessible, except by trail, with watersheds or shorelines essentially primitive and waters unpolluted. These represent vestiges of primitive America.

Scenic — Those rivers or sections of rivers that are free of impoundments, with shorelines or watersheds still largely primitive and shorelines largely undeveloped, but accessible in places by roads.

Recreational — Those rivers or sections of rivers that are readily accessible by road or railroad, they may have some development along their shorelines, and that may have undergone some impoundment or diversion in the past.

Gebhardt indicated the management is done according to the classification. Three ways of management are through: outright purchase of land, scenic easements. This is the purchase of certain development rights. The other is county or township zoning.

Some questions were raised concerning condemnation of land. Gebhardt explained the maximum condemnation is 100 acres per mile and only where less than 50 percent of the land is in public ownership. In other words, if there is more than 50 percent of the land in public ownership already, no new land can be purchased through condemnation.

Some members of the council were concerned that the upper parts of the north and south branches were not being considered for inclusion. Not much of the main-stream in Crawford County is being given any serious consideration — inclusion at this point is only speculation. A public hearing will be conducted in the fall on designated areas.

Appointed Area Conservationist

Robert A. Speich, a native of Ladysmith, Wisconsin has recently become Area Conservationist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service in Grayling. A 19 year veteran of federal work, Speich has held various positions with SCS in West Virginia, Virginia and Wisconsin before coming to Michigan. His most recent assignment was as coordinator of the Pri-Ru-Ta Resource Conservation and Development project at Spooner, Wisconsin.

As Area Conservationist, Speich will supervise all SCS administered operations in the 14 northeastern counties of the state. They include soil surveys, RC&D, small watersheds and conservation operations. The SCS area

School Board Considers Possible Multiple-Millage Vote

By Rod Denley

There are strong indications that local voters will be deciding on what is important in local education, since the Crawford AuSable School Board is considering the presentation of a multiple - millage proposal for local taxpayers to vote on.

The issue "came up" at a Monday night board meeting after the board heard several citizens committee reports - which were presented by the citizens advisory committee.

The millage proposal would mean that several areas of concern within the educational system would be listed and voters could then vote for the areas which they feel should receive funding.

According to the reports from the different committees, some services are badly needed and may be the areas voters get to decide on if the board decides to go that route.

According to the budget committee report the teachers will be asked, once again this year to pay the price for the "austerity budget" since that committee recommended that "All teachers salaries be frozen for the next contract period, this means no increases be awarded for step increases or otherwise, in view of the possibility of a 5% retirement contribution that is to be the responsibility of the administration." This is mandatory this year by State law.

Other committees which reported were the curriculum and the facilities committee. The facility committee felt that most of the school buildings were in good condition but feel a firm of experts be hired to look over the Middle School and try and determine what the best course of action will be in regards to that facility. An expert company could make the decision on whether the building should be renovated or replaced.

The curriculum committee in their report opposed any increase in class sizes and also said they could find no serious discipline problems in the schools.

Their recommendations included: "As a highest priority more monies should be allocated for text books, classroom teaching supplies, libraries and dictionaries. Textbooks and the teaching supplies for present classes should be upgraded before any new classes are added. A formal physical education program is needed in the Elementary and Middle Schools."

That committee also urges upgrading and more supplies for vocational classes, evaluate [See Millage on page 2]

In Federal Court Bear Mt. Settlement Reached

The Grayling Recreation Authority now has fully authorized lease to operate the former Bear Mountain site, now to be called Rasmus Hanson Recreation Area.

The final disposition in the courts returns the control of the area to the authority which is organized from Grayling, Grayling Township and School Board officials. The function of the committee is to run the site for the benefit of all local citizens.

The final legal step was a consent agreement and judgment, settling the eight-year-old case which was issued by Judge James Harvey, in Federal District Court in Bay City last week. According to a downstate paper the judgment,

"Recognizes a new, 14-year lease, transferring operations of the 1,200-acre park to the Grayling Recreation Authority. This lease provides that the park, to be operated under the name of the Rasmus Hanson Recreation area, will be used only for public recreation and as a game and forest preserve.

"It transfers all ski equipment to the new Grayling Recreation Authority, comprised of Grayling city, Grayling Township and the Crawford - AuSable School District.

"It recognizes new subleases between the recreation authority and Lee A. Barkley of Grayling, operator of Little

Buc also asked why the present system could not be expanded by using mechanical aeration or a spray irrigation system which he said the 1969 report listed as possible options to increase the size of the system in the future.

Morford was asked if the city and its consultant engineers would be responding to the questions raised at the public meeting. He said he has received no copies of the questions raised by the men at the public meeting and declined to comment on any of those issues until he had the opportunity to look them over after they came into the city office.

Fowler also said he has received no copies of the Larson report and he said the questions raised would not be answered at the meeting Friday night and probably not in a special meeting. He said the engineers would reply to the questions after the reports were brought to him.

During an interview after the public meeting, the men who presented the reports said they would be giving copies to the officials and wanted to go over their report, "page by page".

tion of the art program, strong support for 11th grade proficiency tests, and the formation of an active curriculum council.

"We cannot support the suggestion that it is inefficient to conduct classes with less than 15 students. This penalizes the better, college bound student since it would eliminate many of the advanced classes such as advanced chemistry, advanced math, physiology and zoology. We need our doctors, engineers, nurses, teachers, etc."

In their report the curriculum committee said that doing away with small classes would be denying a very productive segment of the society.

The subject of discipline has been a controversial topic: question and in response to that the committee said, "While discipline is an admitted problem in the middle school, partly due to the age of the students at that level, the Elementary and High School seem to have adequate physical discipline, comparable to most schools in our area and certainly far better than the City Schools we hear about. Mental discipline is another matter. The committee members feel the students could be achieving more academically, but at this point in our study we do not feel we can say any one person or group of persons is at fault. Rather we feel there is a great need for more respect and cooperation between the parents, teachers and administrators."

Class sizes should not be enlarged. Not only does the teacher then have less time for individual help, but discipline problems increase automatically, creating even a further drain on the teacher's time."

In their report the budget committee called for renegotiation or elimination from negotiation the issue of determining class sizes and the ensuing decision as when aids will be added to the payroll. They also urged for the board to "reduce or eliminate all expenditures to non-essential programs. Non-essential programs should be reviewed and defined with the entire school board involved and with an austerity program in mind. In reviewing programs, serious consideration must be given to reducing staff expenses."

The committee said 6% inflationary increases faced by the board can be absorbed and also suggested that any recommendations requiring funds not presently available be shelved.

School Superintendent Fraser Dean urged all the people at the meeting, along with their neighbors, to participate in an active letter writing campaign to prod state officials into producing a program which will provide more state aid for area schools. The meeting was told there is a good chance this community will receive no state aid, or at best, very little within the next year and would have to pay all school expenses from local tax dollars. He said many other communities are facing the same problems and indicated if local people complained they may get some reaction.

Bits O' Talk

by Fay Bove

Sue Kitch of CMU spent the spring break last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Morse.

Lori Knowles of CMU spent most of her spring break with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Knowles. She had as her guest, Deni Martin, of Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Mary Jane Knibbs went to Lansing on Friday to visit her daughter, Holly, at MSU. On Saturday they picked up another daughter, Nancy Rosenberg, in Ann Arbor and attended the Fisher Theater in Detroit. Holly returned home with her mother to spend part of her spring break. Mrs. Knibbs was accompanied to Lansing by Debbie Parker who visited friends there.

Frederic Community Library

One of the new books that has been added to our library is "The Man from Plains, (The Mind and Spirit of Jimmy Carter)," by David Kucharsky. It is a closely reasoned, deeply provocative report of who Jimmy Carter really is and why he evokes the reaction he does. This book is a clear definition of the current American Mood.

The book "When the King was Carpenter" was written by Maria Von Trapp. It is the story of Jesus as a little boy growing up with his family and friends. It tells the story of Mary, his mother, as she lovingly looked after her family, Jesus shopping in the market places with his mother. It tells about Joseph, his father, who was a carpenter. There was peace and love in their home and they were a very happy family. It will give the reader an insight into life as it was lived in Bible times.

For the young at heart, we have many Harlequin Romance Books by Anne Mather, Violet Winspear, Margaret Rome, Lilian Peake, Betty Neels and Elizabeth Hunter.

These books of interest are by Anne Hampson, "Pride and Power", "Blue Hills of Sintra" and "Stormy the Way". Another popular writer is Barbara Cartland. Here are just a few of her books we have on hand, "The Fragrant Flower", "A Frame of Dreams" and "Gamble with Hearts".

Come in and browse and look over our fine selection of books. Our library is located in the Frederic Town Hall.

Bingo Club

The Grayling Bingo Club met again for their monthly meeting at Violet Kehr's house on North Down River Road. Well, our little club is expanding again. Another possible member who belonged over a year ago may be rejoining. Hope to see you again, Betty Gravelyn. Other visitors were Donna Bleski, Jean Wilson and Fran Shires. All regular members attended.

Mrs. Kehr served a tossed salad, bar-b-que sandwiches and coffee, which is really getting to be a treat. The door prize was a brown and white salad set.

In a get together next month, all the members will bring something for the kitchen to symbolize our bursting spring fever. It will be held at Helen Johnsons on Elm Street.

Final Rites For

Agnes M. Hanson, 70
Agnes M. Hanson, 70, of Grayling passed away Thursday, March 17, at Mercy Hospital. She was born in Grayling June 4, 1906 and was a lifelong resident. She was the former Grayling City Treasurer.

Private family services were held at Sorenson Funeral Home on Saturday with Rev. George Spencer officiating. Following cremation, her remains will be interred in Elmwood Cemetery.

Miss Hanson is survived by two sisters, Miss Ann Hanson of Grayling and Mrs. John (Ingeborg) Libcke of West Palm Beach, Florida; also, two brothers, George and Robert Hanson, both of Grayling.

Former Resident Dies in Grand Rapids

Mrs. Wilhelmina (Mina Kraus) Friedman, 85, of Grand Rapids passed away Friday, March 11. She was the widow of Samuel O. Friedman and a former Grayling resident. She was Past Matron of the Order of Eastern Stars, Marysville, Michigan.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Rounds of Grand Rapids; two sisters, Mrs. Augusta Walt and Mrs. Harriet Cohen, both of Grayling; a grandson, Alan Cohn; two great-grandchildren, Pauline and Eric Cohn and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Thursday, March 17, in the Metcalf & Jonkhoff Chapel in Grand Rapids with interment in the Oakhill Cemetery.

"Two Cents Worth"

By Rod Denley

It was nice to sit at the public hearing for the sewer meeting last week and watch the citizens of this town making themselves heard for a change.

I was at the point of thinking that the local residents had all hibernated for the winter and no matter what happened could not be aroused for anything. I was wrong, for along came the spectre of increased taxes and the bear stirred within its cave. When the ghost of higher taxes began assuming a more concrete form and there was talk of $24 per month sewer increases and high hook-up charges, the bear was wide awake and feeling just a bit grumpy about having its winter sleep disturbed.

There was little doubt in the mind of anyone on what the mood of the crowd was that night. . . feisty would be a nice and kind euphemism. Democracy began as the consensus of the people within a small tribe or clan. It grew and worked for villages and cities. After that, it seemed to be out of the hands of the common people to have a real say in their destiny. Elected officials speak for large groups of people and the value of that representation works only if vested interests cannot buy the honesty or interest of the men who we elect. Too often it seems we are helpless to do anything but take our licks and drive about it.

The sewer meeting was a chance for a bit of real democracy for a change and it was nice to sit back and watch and know that spirit of care still exists. The people who did not bother to show up, and probably watched TV, deserve to have their taxes take a hefty hike. The screams would be heard from Hawaii to Rhode Island, but it's the price you pay if you don't get involved.

It seemed to me at the meeting that the cart was bumping along ahead of the horse. The logical reason for sewer expansion has always been to handle excess sewage or solve sewage problems. After listening to the speakers from both sides I am not at all convinced that any problem exists. I am sure that septic systems have broken down and discharged sewage. I am willing to grant that is not a healthy situation. I'm not convinced a huge sewer project is the answer. It does seem unfair that everyone with a decent septic system pay the price for a few that don't. It also would be appropriate I think for the District Health Department to either release their water sample studies or do a conclusive in-depth study to determine for certain if any health hazards exist. I am sure that even if a huge sewer does go in it will not eliminate all problems. Pipes from that are bound to break and there will be spilled sewage whenever that happens.

It seems the only solution to problems these days are huge engineering projects, but the problems they create lead to more problems that need more engineering that create more problems . . .

However, there are two things that local citizens must accept if this project does not go through. It is one thing to band together, attend public meetings and stop the project if that is the wish of the people. It is another thing to ignore the potential for pollution problems. You cannot have your cake and eat it as well. If there is no sewer system installed, there will have to be strict and tight zoning. Without some control you can kiss a decent environment good-bye within the next couple of decades. The only difference between Grayling and the polluted rivers, lakes and streams of the south is that they have had more people and time to ruin them down there. Every river and lake and stream of this continent ran pretty clean before the whiteman got here. Those who fight the sewer project should give some thought to seeing that zoning by-laws are adhered to as well.

Sitting on my desk today is a report from Maine on 10 composting toilets that turn human and kitchen waste into dried out soil that is safe enough to sprinkle on your rose bushes. The units range in price and all can be installed in private homes. They are already being used in many places in Maine and should be considered for use here.

Such a system makes a great deal of sense to me. It has been said already by many people that there is no longer anyplace for pollution. Getting rid of it is everyone's responsibility. Perhaps it has been too easy for us to forget our problems and ignore them because we could not see them. While we turn our minds elsewhere, they have grown and they knock at our backdoors until they no longer can be ignored.

Individual composting toilets recycle all wastes directly back to the earth. They also put the responsibility for pollution right where it belongs as well . . . In our own backyards.

Save-Share Here's How to Do It...

This is one example of a non-profit organization who has taken advantage of Glen's Save-Share Program. Pictured at right is Mrs. JoEllen Schwartz accepting a check on behalf of the Assembly of God Church in the amount of $356.08 from Deb Mowrey. There are many more groups using it too and there will be a picture of one each week in this paper.

Glen's wants everyone in Grayling to know about Save-Share and hopes more groups will use it to raise funds.

All a group has to do is register with the Store Manager or Asst. Manager and begin saving the green register tapes. Glen's will pay 1% of the total qualified amount of all tapes brought in to any registered group; and not just once but each time a group brings in $25.00 worth of slips or more.

Tax rebel a bit off base

Richard Millman

Tax rebellion in the United States is nothing new. The country literally was founded upon rebellion against unjust taxation, and all that goes with it.

Novel ideas about how to protest taxation crop up from time to time, with simple abstention from paying taxes one of the more common and usually ineffective methods of protest.

Attention was drawn recently by newspaper publicity to the campaign of a gentleman named David H. Gust, of Rochester, N.Y., a tree-trimmer by trade, who is in a running feud with state and federal governments centered on taxation.

About a year ago, Mr. Gust notified the state of New York that no longer would he serve as its collection agent for the state sales tax. In New York, a business is liable for sales tax, as it is in Michigan and most other states; the business is permitted to collect it from the consumer, but must forward it to the state regardless of whether it soaks the customer.

In Rochester, Mr. Gust said to heck-with-it, and refuses to either collect sales tax, or send any sales tax to the state. That's illegal, of course.

Then Mr. Gust told his employer to stop deducting state and federal income taxes from his paycheck. Instead, what Mr. Gust wants to do is to fine-tooth the state and federal budgets, and send along only the proportion of his tax money to support the state and federal programs which he supports.

Well, I suppose that's one way to do it. Mr. Gust says he recognizes he faces jail, but that somebody has to do something.

"Some people have said you'd bring down the government if everybody did what you did," Mr. Gust is quoted. "Well, for the last 15 years I have supported the government and they have been getting worse — financially and creditably-wise."

"I think to the extent we cooperate with these people we contribute to what happens. I don't believe the government should be destroyed, but it should be brought down to where we can afford it."

I have to admire Mr. Gust's pluck, but neither his rationale, or his methods.

His action challenges not the programs of the government, state or local, but the very foundation of our form of self-government — such things as government by representation, and the sovereignty of the polling place, and controls residing with the citizens through their votes, and things of this sort.

If our government is not responsive to what a majority of the people want, then the method of change is imbedded in our system. We have only to learn the method of change, and use it. That's why we have elections. That's why Mr. Nixon is no longer president, nor is Mr. Ford. That's why Mr. Johnson did not run for a second term, and why the nation changed its official mind about our Vietnam participation, and on and on and on.

As the Watergate experience indicated, this is a country of law and not of men ... meaning that the law is supreme, and covers its subjects alike, as the dew covers the lawn.

We cannot pick and choose the laws which we want to observe, and disregard the others, just because we don't like them. If that were the case, most businesses would not pay taxes of any sort, nor would most individuals. Then the theory of community ... of joining together for the good of the majority ... would be completely out the window.

The system is imperfect. Sometimes it is slow in recognizing and effectuating equal treatment. Frequently it frustrates. Often it misfires.

But it is a rational system. It can be responsive. It can be made to work. Orderly change is possible.

Selective compliance to law is not a sound road to follow. Nevertheless, a must admire the individuality of the David Gusts in our midst, even if their actions are misdirected.

District Court

James M. Knapp, 20, of Roscommon, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to Circuit Court on charges of armed robbery, assault with intent to do great bodily harm and possession of a firearm while committing a felony. Bond was set at $2500.00 cash/surety. He was arrested on a citizen's complaint February 21.

Don E. Whitehead, 24, of Camp Lehigh, Grayling demanded preliminary examination to a charge of bringing contraband into a correctional facility. The 12 day period was not waived and bond was set at $2500.00 cash/surety. Whitehead was apprehended on a citizen's complaint March 7.

Timothy J. Furay, 18, of Elmira, and Kevin J. Cuddy, 21, of East Detroit, were ordered to pay fine and costs of $205.00 or 30 days in jail after a plea of guilty by Furay and a plea of nolo contendere by Eddy. Furay was arrested by Houghton Lake State Police March 8 and Eddy was apprehended by Sheriff's Deputies March 12.

David G. Bills, 26, of Grayling pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was ordered to pay fine and costs of $355.00 or 60 days in jail and to serve 1 year probation. He was apprehended on a citizen's complaint January 19.

Don Millikin, Jr., 20, of Grayling pleaded guilty to a charge of furnishing alcohol to a minor and was ordered to pay $105.00 or 10 days in jail and to serve probation for 6 months. He was arrested on a citizen's complaint March 1.

Gregory M. Starr, 21, of Grayling pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was ordered to serve 3 days in the Crawford County jail and pay fines of $65.00 or 7 additional days and probation for 6 months. He was apprehended on a citizen's complaint February 10.

Frederic Elementary News

Career education has been stressed in our Kindergarten program this year. This week Mrs. Partello visited our room to tell us about the work of a nurse. Also, we learned that nurses work in many places other than hospitals and doctor's offices.

Travelogue Thursday

Cooper to Present Eastern Canada

The next exciting full-color, true-life outdoor adventure to be presented by the Crawford AuSable Community School Program will be held Thursday evening, March 24 in Grayling's Joseph Stripe Auditorium. At 8:00 p.m. that evening, nationally recognized photographer and humorist Dennis Cooper will narrate his "Eastern Canadian Holiday" in person. Doors at the Grayling High School will open at 7:15 and the Grayling Bellringers will present a short pre-travelogue concert at 7:30. Admission price for the Dennis Cooper show is $2.00 per person and tickets will be available at the door.

Dennis Cooper has been heralded all across Canada and the United States as the funniest fellow to ever appear on the Travel and Adventure Circuit. A native of Spokane, Washington, Dennis spent his early years in his father's lumbercamp. Upon graduation from college with a degree in engineering, Dennis then teamed up with his brother Don to operate a large lumber camp in Northwestern Montana. Later the Cooper brothers decided to team up in another enterprise, that of making and showing travelogues. Their success in this field can be attested to by thousands of fans all across North America.

Eastern Canada is a land filled with magnificent raw beauty uncontaminated by man. This Dennis Cooper travelogue will show you Eastern Canada from the breathtaking beauty of the Atlantic Coast and the Gaspe Peninsula to the New North Shore Highway around Lake Superior to Fort William and Port Arthur. Highlights of the tour will be stops at Toronto, Montreal, Fort Henry, the Thousand Islands, Ottawa and Sault Ste. Marie. Also included will be a zannie canoe adventure through Ontario's northern wilderness and a flight above the Arctic Circle to visit the Eskimo village of Povungnituk.

The Grayling Community School Program will conclude its fourth annual Travel and Adventure Series on Thursday evening, April 28 with a colorful adventure through the back country of France.

The Big Story

This busy reporter is hammering out an important news story. Perhaps he is reporting a bank robbery... or the threat of war... or a major disaster, like an earthquake or a famine. The reporter is working against time. He has to get this story in the next edition; and he has to have the facts.

Good reporting is an essential element of our democratic society. It is a highly specialized craft. Reporters and the rest of the newspaper staff must all blend into a dedicated, hard-working team. They must be an alert band of men and women on the job around the clock — ready at a moment's notice.

Most newspaper stories come to a conclusion. They soon lose their "news" value, and become history.

But one of the greatest stories of all time is ever fresh... ever relevant. It is the story of God's great Gift to man... the story of a promise of life after death. Through the life of Jesus Christ, through the Holy Scriptures and through the Church, we can hear this story forever. Knowing that the greatest story ever told is NEWS today.

Accident

tion is kept on file in the computer in Lansing.

As the data accumulates, the local enforcement agencies and road engineering boards can get read-outs which will provide them with information which will pinpoint hazardous intersections, ramps or sections of highways. After improvements are made either in engineering or enforcement, the system can monitor the value of the improvements. The computer can also produce a computerized road map of an entire section of highway as well, indicating the accident problems all along it.

Once a bad section is found, the engineers can determine methods of solving the problem. Sgt. Bouchard said that once police administrators find a bad section, they can then assign their officers to patrol it. "This is where you should be at the bad times looking for the kind of violations indicated by the computer," he said.

The job of the council will be to disseminate information from Lansing to the many groups involved from this area. Eventually the MALT system will be operating all over the state.

1. "That all men are by nature equally free and independent and have certain inherent rights, of which, when they enter into a state of society, they cannot, by any compact, deprive or divest their posterity; namely, the enjoyment of life and liberty with the means of acquiring and possessing property and pursuing and obtaining happiness and safety."

2. "That ALL power is vested in, and consequently derived from, the PEOPLE; that magistrates are their trustees and servants, and at ALL times amenable to them."

3. "The government is or ought to be, instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security of the people, nation, or community; of all the various modes and forms of government that is best which is capable of producing the greatest degree of happiness and safety, and is most effectually secure against the danger of mal-administration, and that when ANY government shall be found inadequate or contrary to these purposes, a majority of the community hath an indubitable right to reform, alter, or abolish it, in such manner as shall be adjudged most conducive to the public weal."

"Opinion"
Our ancestors revolted over a MUCH less oppressive government than we endure today. Patrick Henry's statement - "TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION IS TYRANNY" - could be, after 200 years changed to read - "EXCESSIVE TAXATION AND OVER-REGULATION of the peoples lives and business, even WITH representation, IS TYRANNY". Mr. Henry would turn over in his grave if he could see what his government has done WITH representation. WE STILL HAVE in our hands the means of peacefully changing the system, BUT, in order to do so we MUST work TOGETHER. YOU ARE affected by all forms of government regulation and WE MUST STOP IT HERE, in CRAWFORD COUNTY, MICHIGAN. NO ONE can stop it alone! JOIN YOUR tax association NOW, GO to all YOUR local community meetings - voice YOUR opinions. Our elected official WILL fight for US if YOU SHOW them what we want.

Insofar as sewers are concerned, Hoo-ray to the individuals who took the time, effort, and MUCH work to question and study the validity of this ill-advised project. They stood up and were counted, (and appreciated), where were you? WE MUST STOP this spending COMPLETELY. NO more studies or planning. Their foot is in the door, their hands in our pockets. TOGETHER let's remove their hands, get OUR money back, slam and lock the door. The taxpayers of Crawford County don't need to be saddled with any 30 year, (millions of dollars), project such as this. We need a sewer line built from Lansing, to Grayling, to carry all the B.S. they send us! The time is now, let's stick TOGETHER and tell them all to STICK IT! We don't need their controls over our schools, sewage, properties, businesses, etc., etc. We don't need their monies, especially if they would pay the EQUALIZED VALUE on THEIR 80% of the lands in Crawford County! Why don't they?

And why were our assessments raised so much all at once? Now the schools can spend more without a vote of the people, the county and townships can bond higher and cause our indebtedness to become increased a couple of million more. Our assessments and taxes are too high for what we get. We live here because we don't want all the services they have down below, curbs, gutters, garbage pick-up, etc., etc. Don't tell us about equalized values, especially with the state properties... and some of the counties that haven't been raised since 1958. WHY?? Is it because Crawford County is an easy mark for more money when Lansing needs it?????

Frederic Hobby Club

We had our officers dinner, a potluck at the Town Hall on February 28th. This was to honor our last year's officers. Everyone brought their favorite dish and the food was delicious. Annabelle Armstrong provided us with live entertainment - our own "Senorita Dena" in a Spanish Dance number, which we all enjoyed. Uppy Graham provided us with some unusual games to play, which were lots of fun. I'm sure some went home aching from laughing so much. The officers from last year and those incoming were presented with flowers made by Annabelle Armstrong and Dena Hulsman. Ellie Lozon won the door prize.

On March 14th we met at the home of Helma Post for a regular business meeting with 16 members present. A few plans were made for our Annual Mother and Daughter Banquet to be held May 9th. Some of the girls turned in their projects that we will later sell.

Our benefit dinner for the Love children was a success. Jack Schornack won the C.B., Gary Simmons won the Bear Bow. We will do another project next club meeting. Debbie Weaver will be hostess and it will be held at the Town Hall on March 28th. Eunice Barker won the door prize.

A Tribute to Dr. Clarence Clippert

Although Dr. Clippert had retired from active practice for several years, I always felt his presence so keenly known in Grayling.

He was one of the most dedicated doctors (in my opinion) I have ever had the opportunity to meet, and I personally am so indebted to him. A sum of money given for his memorial at St. Francis Church seems such an inadequate way of expressing my gratitude.

My wonderful father, Paul Ziebell, had Parkinson's disease for 16 years and at least once every two weeks Dr. Clippert would stop in for a few minutes to chat with him. During the last year of his life he seemed to want no one around him, as the disease had such disastrous results, but Dr. Clippert was always welcome and always had a word of encouragement and a prayer.

I had an operation on Dec. 7th, 1957 in your Mercy Hospital. The Toledo doctors said they were sure I had cancer. This was on a Saturday when Dr. Clippert had his day off, but he assisted Dr. Henig, and in the middle of the operation, came out into the lobby where my husband was sitting with Sister Marietta Hogan; he was still in his operating gown, (splattered a bit here and there with red) but he threw himself in a chair next to Fred, reached for a cigarette and said "There is no cancer, Fred, no cancer" ...

Bernice Corwin Hilton (also a friend of long standing, I can't remember when I did not know her) also assisted and came out and got him to return to the operating room.

If everyone who was brought into this world by Dr. Clippert, or who had any dealings with him, would only give $1.00, what a tremendous memorial fund he would have - and no one ever deserved it more. During the depression years I know he had thousands of dollars in unpaid bills on his books, but he never even tried to collect, and never even refused to make house calls and he made plenty of them in those days.

My mother had two broken hips - one in 1955 and the other 14 months later, and both Dr. and Mrs. Clippert were so kind to her for the six months she was in Mercy (4 months the first time and 2 months the second). I could not come up more often than once in two weeks or so, as my own husband was not too well, but my mind was completely at ease with the wonderful care she was getting, both from the Clipperts, the staff at Mercy and Dr. Henig.
